J-300™ Collection Control Panel and Circuit Board Changes

Due to a change to the J-300 Collection software, new part numbers for the circuit boards and control panels have been created. The new PWA software revision is 2.00 and panel software is revision 2.03. The new control panels (P/N 6600-382 1-Pump and 6600-383 2-Pump) are compatible with the new encrypted and the original circuit boards. The original control panels (P/N 6600-341 and 6600-339) are not compatible with the new encrypted circuit boards but can still be used on boards prior to 6/2018. You will no longer be required to enter the registration and passcode information. See the compatibility matrix below.

This change was implemented in production starting on June 11, 2018, however, it is recommended that you confirm the software revision prior to service on spas made on or near that date. To do this turn the power off and on which will display both revisions during power up. If the existing panel will not display, be sure to have the new version of the panel with you as it will work with either board. Please note that these same changes have been implemented on the J-400™ Collection and J-500™ Collection spas.
